

Painting, Singing and Voice Development Holiday - Cognac, France, 2nd -8th July, 2011

Spend a week in the beautiful Cognac countryside this summer and take time to explore your creativity – develop painting skills and your voice with two experienced coaches

From only £885 the package includes:

Return airfare and transfers in France from Gatwick to Bordeaux

6 nights excellent full board accommodation including gourmet dinner at a local restaurant one evening

5 days tuition including individual and group sessions – participate as much or as little as you wish

A tasting trip to Cognac/Pineau Distillery and artist's studio/gallery

A trip to nearby Roman town of Saintes for shopping and sight seeing

The stunning farmhouse accommodation is set in beautiful grounds in Coucoussac in the Charente Maritime Region of France

We will be staying in the tastefully converted and lovingly restored L'Ancienne Ferme, a 17th century farmhouse with lovely gardens and salt water pool surrounded by fields of sunflowers

Suzy Phillips is an experienced and commercially successful abstract artist and group facilitator

Bev Drew is an experienced singing teacher, voice coach and qualified therapist

We have designed this informal holiday to inspire you to develop your skills and knowledge in this perfectly relaxed environment. No previous experience is needed – just bring your enthusiasm! The maximum group size is 10 people, so individual attention is guaranteed.

You will receive practical tips and learn new techniques. The emphasis is on enjoying creating music or art work (in the abstract style) and not on competition or performance.
